

Casino news.

Is poker your game? If you have been following poker tournaments you should be looking to the World Championship of Online Poker, which will happen on September 4, 2005. This is a great time in the world of poker, where the best gamblers in the world gather to bluff their way and win their way to millions of dollars.

The guarantee in this World Championship of Online Poker event is $2,500,000 dollars! That is a huge jackpot and the gamblers that are in this main event will be serious about every card that comes across their hands.

The World Championship of Online Poker Event is not just a one day occasion, but actually a two week long affair. There are almost 550 players involved in this poker event, which means that a lot of pots will be turning as winners will be scooping out their competition as every game is played.

The World Championship of Online Poker Event will feature a few different types of poker such as Omaha, Stud, and even Texas Hold'em. These games will be roll on fast so players will face off in many different games each day. Only the strong will survive these marathon games, but the best gambler in the world in poker will be one rich risk taker.

With less than three weeks until the tournament occurs make your plans now to watch the event, and listen to the news so you can find out which players, from which countries are going to be the best in the World Online Game of Poker.